State Officer Handbook

2024-2025

Introduction

This handbook has been developed for YOU, the person who wishes to run for a state office. Each section is designed to help you better understand the procedures and the duties of each office.

You are welcome at any time to contact the State Adviser or the State Officer Team Adviser if any questions should arise that this packet may not answer. GOOD LUCK!

Being an FBLA state or national officer undeniably involves a great deal of hard work. It is also a challenge that brings many opportunities for learning, experiencing, and growing. A mixture of conferences, speeches, assignments, and deadlines are just a few of the things that an officer will experience. The officer can also expect to meet new friends and people within the FBLA organization.

Anyone willing to accept the challenge and responsibility of the officer duties is encouraged to run for an office. It may sound scary, but the rewards outweigh the workload. Anyone can be a good officer if they only reach far enough for the challenge, because the goal is already with you.

Chapter 1: Running for State Office

Congratulations on pursuing the challenge of running for state office! Being a state officer candidate is an accomplishment itself and a fantastic opportunity to learn, make new friends, and strengthen your communication and leadership skills. Remember, whether you are elected or not, you've accomplished a great deal. Be yourself and do your very best. If you feel good about what you've done, that's success that can't be measured by titles, ribbons, or plaques!

Get Ready!

Before you jump in with both feet, there are a few things you need to consider. Being a state officer involves a tremendous time commitment and responsibility to the organization. As a state officer, you will have responsibility for more than 6,000 other members of the organization. FBLA must be your top priority for an entire year. There will be times when other activities and interests may conflict with FBLA, and you will have to miss that special game or important performance. It is sometimes a sacrifice, but if you ask any past state officer, they will agree that the benefits overshadow the sacrifices tenfold. Just keep in mind when evaluating your commitments for the coming year that FBLA must be your priority.

- Read as much about FBLA as possible, including this entire document. Another important resource to review is information published on www.coloradofbla.org.
- Contact past state officers and candidates for ideas, helpful hints, and words of wisdom to help you become more relaxed and prepared for the responsibilities ahead.
- Before the election process, sit down with your school administrators, chapter adviser, and parents (as well as your coaches and/or employer) to discuss the commitments and activities of state officers. It is important to have their support from the beginning.
- Make sure you are committed. Once you begin the selection process, a decision to drop out or not accept an office would affect many people, including several that you do not even know yet. Be sure that you are ready for the responsibility of a state office and that all your supporters also are committed to your success as both a candidate and an officer.
- Ask your adviser or family to help you practice thinking quickly, answering questions, and expressing your thoughts and ideas effectively.
- Check your wardrobe and grooming. A neat, professional appearance is important.
- Practice, practice, practice, and ask questions!

Get Set!

During the State Leadership Conference, you will work with other state officer candidates and the Selection Committee. Your responsibilities will be varied. As soon as you arrive at the Gaylord Rockies Resort, you'll hit the ground running! Refer to the email you will receive from the state officer adviser prior to the State Leadership Conference for additional information regarding the schedule of events and responsibilities.

Selection Process

Campaigning

Campaigning for state office is not allowed in Colorado FBLA.

Selection Committee

A Selection Committee will be responsible for choosing the State Officers by utilizing rubrics for the application materials and confidential discussions. There is an online Selection Committee Application for those interested.

Each district needs to select a student to serve on the Selection Committee at the State Leadership Conference; this can be done by the State Officer of that District and/or the Board Member for that District. To be eligible, a student:

- Must be a one-year (+) member of FBLA
- May not be from the same chapter as an officer candidate

State Officer Selection Process in Phases

Each chapter may run three (3) members for state office. State officers (President, Executive Vice President, State Officers for each District, Vice President of Service, Vice President of Progress, and Vice President of Education) are selected at the State Leadership Conference. The Executive Vice President position is reserved for a candidate running for a national office (except Parliamentarian).

It is not too early to start planning! Organization is of great importance if accurate and efficient information outlining the positive characteristics and goals of a candidate is to be available. Scheduling of specific tasks which need to be completed is a good idea so that the ideas and plans will be accomplished in a neat and thorough manner. By having a set schedule and sticking to it, all the materials will be finished before the date for application, and there won't be a mad rush at the last minute.

Phase 1: Application Process

Interested members will apply through the online application process for a state office by the established deadline.

- State Officer Application and Candidate Agreement Form with appropriate signatures
- One-page resume (without personal information beyond a name – no address, phone number or email)
- Headshot photo (doesn't have to be professionally taken, just in professional attire)

- Recommendation from the local FBLA adviser
- Unofficial transcripts
- Signed Code of Conduct Form
- A professionally-written article relating to FBLA, this can be about your success, your leadership, or your experience in business education...essentially, the article will be the candidate's FBLA story...submitted to the Colorado FBLA Today newsletter. (200-300 words) Deadline date: March 3.
- A two-minute or less speech promoting FBLA uploaded to YouTube
 - A portion of the video needs to be with a plain background and dressed the part since you will be critiqued on your presentation and speaking skills
- State officers wishing to run for a state/national office a second time must obtain the approval of the state officer team adviser and the state adviser.

The candidates for office must be present at the Colorado FBLA State Leadership Conference to be eligible for official selection. All candidate applications for state officer positions will be reviewed by an appointed Selection Committee at the State Leadership Conference.

National Officer Candidates

If you are interested in running for an elected National Office (Mountain Plains VP, President, Secretary, Treasurer, or Parliamentarian) with the intention of remaining the Colorado Executive Vice President if not elected to National Office, you must:

- Submit all Colorado State Officer materials.
- Participate in the Selection Process at the State Leadership Conference and be selected by the Selection Committee (top 2 of all candidates) to represent Colorado. If Colorado has more than one candidate for a national office, the Selection Committee will select one person to represent Colorado at the National Conference.
- Be approved by the Colorado State Adviser, Colorado State Officer Team Adviser, business/industry representative and other Board appointed persons through an interview at SLC.
- Understand that if selected to represent Colorado as a National Officer Candidate, you will serve as the Colorado Executive Vice President if not elected at the National level.

If you are interested in running for the earned National Office of Parliamentarian and not remaining as the Colorado Executive Vice President if not elected to National Office, you must:

- Submit all Colorado State Officer materials
- Pass the Parliamentary Procedure test with a 75% or better at the State Leadership Conference.
- Be approved by the Colorado State Adviser, Colorado State Officer Team Adviser, business/industry representative and other Board appointed persons through an interview at SLC.
- Colorado may submit one candidate for this position, so if multiple members score higher than 75% the member with the highest score will represent Colorado.

Phase 2: Knowledge Test

All candidates will take a 50-question test comprised of multiple-choice questions regarding facts about FBLA and the information included in this State Officer Handbook. This test will be given on-site at the State Leadership Conference. Candidates will want to review all aspects of the FBLA organization including the history, organizational chart, pledge, leadership goals, competitions, national programs, and insignias, as well as the State Officer Handbook.

Phase 3: Selection Committee

State officer candidates will be sequestered together for part of the selection process and leadership activities at the State Leadership Conference. Leadership activities for officer candidates at the State Leadership Conference will include but are not limited to the following:

- An individual interview with selection committee members
- Colorado FBLA State Officer Knowledge Test
- Session rehearsals with multimedia company
- Optional networking opportunities
- Those interested in National Office or office of President will have an additional interview with the State Adviser, State Officer Team Adviser, business/industry representative and other Board appointed persons at SLC.

Additional activities for officers will take place prior to SLC and be reviewed at SLC. These will include but are not limited to the following:

- Candidate virtual interview with the State Officer Team Adviser
- Candidate's adviser virtual interview with the State Officer Team Adviser

Phase 4: Notification of Selection

Candidates will be notified of selection during the Closing Awards Session. New officers will be announced and installed during the Closing Awards Session at the State Leadership Conference.

Go!

Once a candidate is elected to an office, the following activities can be expected at the State Leadership Conference:

- getting acquainted and meeting with incoming and outgoing state officers
- working with new state officers to understand your role
- meeting with state staff
- participating in photography sessions

When you return home, you will want to make your accomplishments known and share your excitement with family, friends, media, school, and the community.

A Final Note

Work with your adviser to discuss what things will be like if you are selected and if you are not. Make sure you understand that being selected isn't everything! You can play a big role at the chapter, district, and state levels no matter what happens. Do your best and appreciate the accomplishments you have achieved by becoming a state officer candidate, half of the experience is the process.

Chapter 2: If Selected as a State Officer

Once selected as a state officer, you must remember you have been selected by your peers to serve in Colorado FBLA's highest youth leadership position. Serving as a state officer is a tremendous responsibility and an exciting, rewarding challenge. A year of new experiences and opportunities awaits you. Your year as a state officer will include many new responsibilities.

Planning

State Officers will plan and implement their participation in the CTSO Local Officer Training, District Officer Training, Monthly Membership Meetings, Fall Leadership Conference, District Leadership Conferences and State Leadership Conference, and chapter meeting(s) as requested. State Officers can also set up visits to meet with legislators and identify other areas of special interest and input. The state officers will prepare articles for Colorado FBLA Today, posts for social media and other publications as assigned to be distributed to chapter officers, advisers, members, and/or partners.

Public Relations

State Officers may be involved in representing FBLA at selected state meetings upon request and if approved by state headquarters, meeting state legislators, making resource development visits to partners to explain our organization, and attending meetings of other youth and professional organizations.

Each state officer role offers unique opportunities and incorporates specific responsibilities to FBLA, your school, state, family, and yourself.

General Responsibilities and Conduct

State Officers have many responsibilities. These responsibilities take priority over other school and community activities. In order to honor these priorities, sacrifices sometimes have to be made, so be prepared to manage them positively.

- As a state officer, you are an extremely visible role model. Your behavior should be an example for the entire membership. It is important to be aware of this visibility at all times, not only when wearing your uniform. You reflect the image of Colorado FBLA, so dress and act appropriately. Jeans and shorts are not appropriate dress for meetings and workshops. The official uniform makes a strong and proud statement about the organization and should be worn whenever you are representing the organization.
- Communication is extremely important in order to work effectively. You are a link between the state, district, and local levels, so keeping your chapter and state advisers informed of your activities and state responsibilities is essential.
- Throughout the year, many chapter advisers and members will have questions about Competitive Events or National Programs, so be sure to familiarize yourself with all aspects of FBLA as well as be an active chapter member and help keep your chapter involved in those activities too.
- You will be incredibly busy throughout the year. In order to accomplish all tasks, it is a good idea to establish a schedule and practice good time management skills. You should be punctual and follow up with requests. Don't forget to budget time for yourself!
- You should set up a time at least once a week to meet with your chapter adviser to keep each other informed and up-to-date. You can use this time to share ideas and plan for upcoming meetings or activities or just to keep in touch.
- State Officers should set up time to meet with the school principal, superintendent, and school administrator once a month to keep them informed and up-to-date. You can use this time to inform them of upcoming meetings, activities, develop and maintain a supportive working relationship and positively represent FBLA and Business Education.
- State Officers' behavior reflects upon the image of Colorado FBLA. Student conduct should make a positive contribution to the excellent reputation already established.
- The State President shall act as a liaison between the State Board of Directors and the State Officers.
- State Officers shall become familiar with the responsibilities of all officer members.
- During your term of office, some of you will, perhaps, hold another office on the local chapter level. You must remember that you may "wear only one hat at a time."

Your Fall, District, and State Leadership Conference responsibilities will be numerous. You are expected to attend, and you will be advised well in advance of the activities in which you will be expected to participate. State officers should NOT permit themselves to be involved with ANY candidate for state office.

State Officer Meetings

The officers meet a few times during the year. The officers will also meet via conference call or electronic meetings when necessary. At these meetings, State Officers shall

- provide opportunities for officers to share and express ideas in the responsibility for the meeting.
- report results of Board of Directors meetings to State Officers.
- be oriented on the organization, its functions, and its projects.

- I shall not possess or consume any alcoholic beverages or illegal controlled substances of any kind or in any form. I shall refrain from the use of tobacco in any form, especially while representing Colorado FBLA.
- I shall follow the established curfew. Curfew means I am quiet and in my own room unless I am conducting official business at the instruction of the state FBLA staff.
- I will always conduct myself in a professional manner as a representative of Colorado FBLA.
- I shall apply appropriate leadership principles at all times. These include, but are not limited to the following: consensus building, compromising, listening, respecting other people's opinions and possessions, maintaining enthusiasm and involvement, and conflict resolution through open communications.

The code applies to the entire term of office whether you are at an FBLA conference/activity or not.

If other situations arise that are not covered by the Code of Conduct for Colorado FBLA State Officers, I shall use my best judgment in the situation. Above all, I will try to act in such a way that I will reflect positively on Colorado FBLA.

Sanctions

Anyone may make a bad decision here or there. Colorado FBLA wants students to learn from any poor choices. Therefore, sanctions assigned to a FBLA State Officer are educational in nature. Our goal is for each student to learn from a bad decision and equip themselves with the skills to make better decisions in the future.

While some sanctions may be perceived as punitive, the student conduct process seeks to assign sanctions with educational purpose, and sanctions are intended to balance the needs of the individual with the needs of the organization. Sanctions may range from a warning, to officer improvement plan or dismissal. There are a variety of sanctions outlined. Any notices will be copied to the Local Chapter Adviser.

- Warning. A notice will be given to the FBLA State Officer and Local Adviser that her/his actions are inappropriate, and that the individual must act more responsibly in the future. A reprimand also indicates that should the individual again be referred for disciplinary action, their prior disciplinary history will help determine any future sanctions.

- Officer Improvement Plan. A notice will be given to the FBLA State Officer that her/his actions are of a serious Colorado FBLA State Officer Code of Conduct policy violation. Probation shall be for a designated period of time and includes the probability of more severe disciplinary sanctions if the student is found to be violating any Code of Conduct policies during the probationary period. Any violation committed during the probationary period will result in a review of the student's status as a FBLA State Officer.
- Disciplinary Dismissal. After review by the State Officer team Adviser(s) a recommendation from the Colorado FBLA State Adviser will be given to the Colorado FBLA Board of Directors calling for resignation of the State Officer from the FBLA Officer Team. The Colorado FBLA Board of Directors shall review the recommendation and determine the final sanction.

Parents and/or guardians may be notified, and Colorado FBLA reserves the right to notify law enforcement.

Relationships

In working with other officers, it is important to be supportive of one another and respect individual viewpoints and opinions.

- Being a state officer means being a team member. Throughout the year, the team will have many decisions to make and tasks to complete. In working together, it is important to be understanding and patient when others are expressing their viewpoints.
- Sometimes the best ideas and plans are the ones that result from total group input.
- Effective teamwork requires constant effort on everyone's part. Keep in mind that working with so many people -- with unique personalities from different backgrounds, representing a variety of ideas -- can be challenging. The key tools needed to deal with these challenges successfully are a positive attitude, flexibility, and the willingness to be supportive of others' ideas.
- You must be on time and prepared for all meetings. Members' dues support these meetings. In addition, many people have invested time and energy to make this time together productive. Be sure to check your email once a day and get back to your fellow officers promptly, should they need work from you. Communication is the key to good teamwork.

School Administrators

Be sure to talk with administrators as soon as possible to inform them of your accomplishment. Explain the educational benefits of your office to the school and community and share some of your responsibilities and activities.

- Spend some time together discussing the educational experiences you'll have as a state officer. Point out specific activities that will strengthen your academic skills -- like letter writing (language), handling a budget (math), public speaking (language), meeting with legislators (social studies), seeing professionals at work (career exploration), etc. Also emphasize the personal and leadership skills that will prepare you for the future.
- Discuss the possibility of earning school credit for your state officer experience. As an integral part of the Business education curriculum, your office provides important experiences. Work with administrators to decide what kind of feedback they would like in order to grant school credit.
- Keep administrators informed about your activities throughout the year. Show them clippings and programs that demonstrate your participation in different events.
- Share meeting timelines and present an invitation to school administrators prior to all meetings you will be attending.
- Investigate your school's absentee policy as soon as possible in order to resolve conflicts before they arise. Your adviser can provide guidance in dealing with questions or problems. Before you leave school for a meeting or a Colorado FBLA activity, share your involvement with administrators. The more involved and informed they are, the more supportive they are likely to be.

State Staff

As a state officer, you will work closely with state staff members as they keep you informed about the organization and its programs. The State Officer Adviser is a member of the staff who works directly with the state officers and assists them in coordinating state officer responsibilities. The State Officer Adviser should always be aware of your activities and should be copied on any and all correspondence that relates to your role as a state officer. Other staff members also may call on you from time to time to gather opinions and input on an idea or to participate in a special project. You will have many opportunities to get acquainted with staff throughout the year.

Family

Throughout the year, your family will provide many different kinds of support. They are probably enthusiastic and proud; chances are they are more than willing to lend a helping hand. It is very important to keep all of your family informed well in advance of your activities and responsibilities.

Friends

It is important to have the support and encouragement of your friends. Sometimes it's hard for them to understand your state officer experiences, so be patient with them. Let friends know what you are doing and try to include them when you can, but be careful not to focus on your activities only.

Chapter 3: State Officer Meetings

There will be three to four Colorado FBLA State Officer Meetings during the year that the officer and his/her adviser will be required to attend. Following is a summary of each meeting.

- The first meeting is held after the state leadership conference. All state officers and advisers are required to attend this meeting. The purpose of this meeting is to become acquainted with some of the responsibilities and activities of a state officer and adviser and meet the district board member. Topics include: state structure, board policies, calendar of events, and general information pertinent to the year as a state officer. All district and state activity dates must be confirmed.
- An overnight will be held in June (this is for state officers only). Topics include: Program of Work, conference planning and team bonding/building.
- Another meeting is held in September. All state officers and their advisers are required to attend this meeting. The purpose of this meeting is to review fall leadership conferences and other fall events.
- The fourth meeting may be held in December. All state officers and their advisers are required to attend this meeting. The purpose of this meeting is to finalize plans for the District Leadership Conference.
- A final meeting may be held in March. All state officers and their advisers are required to attend this meeting. The purpose of this meeting is to finalize plans for the State Leadership Conference.
- All state officers are required to meet one/two day(s) prior to the state conference.

In addition to the previous time commitments, each officer is expected to:

- Visit local chapters throughout the year.
- Prepare correspondence, workshops, etc., for use in visitations and conferences.
- Spend other time as required or requested.

State Leadership Conference Tips

- Keep an up-to-date list of all your responsibilities.
- Arrive at the State Leadership Conference with all responsibilities completed.
- Memorize scripts for general sessions and any other activities in which you have a part.
- Work closely with other officers to divide responsibilities.
- Before the meeting, inform your adviser of your responsibilities, activities, and schedule.
- Bring necessary uniform needs.
- Do your best and enjoy the experience.

State Staff Responsibilities

Members of the state staff are employed to manage the meeting and help you carry out your plans. The staff handles actual management of the meeting including:

- pulling together general session plans and helping produce scripts.
- contacting speakers, workshop leaders, and program participants.
- arranging for the production of audio-visual materials.
- developing promotional materials to send to state associations and chapters.
- processing registration; working with the hotel and convention center on room assignments and equipment needs.

Chapter 4: Travel and Expenses

Your year as a state officer will be a very busy one, but, if you are organized and try to stay one step ahead, you should be able to balance everything with great success.

If you are participating in a meeting at the request of state headquarters, your travel and expenses are reimbursable. When participating in a meeting or activity at the request of anyone other than state headquarters, expenses are the responsibility of that group. It is always a good idea to inquire about financial arrangements beforehand. If the group does not cover expenses, you should consider the expense before making your final decision. Never abuse the privilege of being a state officer. Be a servant leader and help in every way possible at the meetings. Do not leave incidental expenses on your hotel room account, for example, snacks, phone calls, movies, laundry, etc.

State officers must keep their school administration informed of all travel once elected to office. As soon as you return to school, remind administrators and potential teachers of scheduled travel dates for required FBLA meetings. Please provide the school administrators with these dates as well. We understand school administrators may require approval at least 30-40 days' notice prior to travel and FBLA will try to provide as many dates as possible. However, at times sudden dates become available for meetings for a state officer to attend, which is out of our control, but we will work with the officer to ensure all information is provided as quickly as possible. We will provide that officer with the dates as soon as possible, so the officer can check with his/her school.

Travel Authorization

When you are traveling for Colorado FBLA, each state officer must submit a travel authorization to the State Officer Team Adviser for the whole year. In addition to YOUR signature, the form requires your local adviser, school administrator, and parent to sign the form. You should travel the LEAST expensive way; travel with other officers, if possible. Then throughout the year, be sure to keep all individuals up to date with your dates for State Officer activities.

Insurance

IF you drive, you MUST submit proof of current auto insurance. If you do not drive, please submit a statement indicating so. Both need to go to the State Adviser and State Officer Team Adviser(s) prior to the first State Officer Activity.

Additional Tips for State Officer Travel:

- Inform school administrators, teachers, and family of plans. Give them your schedule and emergency contact information.
- Always carry your identification, state staff and headquarters phone numbers, and one copy of the notarized parental consent form in case of an emergency.
- Anticipate your financial needs and plan accordingly. It always is better to have too much money than not enough. Make sure you have a credit card, debit card, and/or enough additional cash in case of an emergency.
- Pack wisely. Officers will be given information about what clothing and materials are needed and rarely will have time or the opportunity to need more than what is listed.
- When traveling on state organization business, the state organization assumes responsibility for your travel arrangements.
- When traveling on state organization business, you will have an adult contact. When you arrive at the hotel, contact the adult to announce your arrival. Do not leave the hotel without an adult.
- When another group or state association has requested your participation, the group extending the invitation is responsible for your travel arrangements.

Hotel Sense

- Officer name tags should be worn when attending meetings. Remove name tags when outside the hotel unless you are participating in a meeting activity.
- Never travel outside the hotel alone. An adult should accompany you. Use good judgment when talking to people not connected with FBLA.
- Never give your room number to anyone you don't know and do not discuss your lodging details in public spaces.
- Lock and bolt your hotel room doors. Open only when you know who is on the other side. All hotel personnel will be in uniform and have an identification badge. If in doubt, call the hotel operator and ask that security come and verify the employee's identity.
- Don't leave valuables or money in hotel rooms. Keep them in a hotel safety deposit box. Such boxes are generally available at the hotel registration desk and/or in your room at no charge.
- Note the fire escape exits on your floor. As an added precaution, count the number of doors from your room to the nearest exit in case smoke-filled hallways block your vision.
- Be considerate of all hotel guests when using the elevators.
- Do not use room service laundry services, pay-per-view, high-speed Internet, etc.
- Be considerate of sleeping hours and the privacy of other hotel guests and FBLA members. Talk in hushed tones in the hallway and do not let your door slam when entering or exiting your room.
- Double-check your room prior to departure to make sure all personal items have been removed, otherwise you assume responsibility for costs of shipping items to you.
- Males and females cannot be in the same hotel room together at any time for any reason. No other person should be in your room at any time except for your designated roommate.
- Keep your room organized and clean.

Travel Reimbursement Policies

Funds are available to cover approved travel, lodging and food expenses for Colorado FBLA staff, contractors, officers and Board of Directors according to the following policies.

- Travel reimbursements will be processed after receiving a W-9 and completed Travel Reimbursement Form.
- Mileage will be reimbursed at 30 cents per mile for officers.

State Officer Reimbursement

- State Officers and their advisers are eligible for travel reimbursement. All requests for reimbursement must be approved prior to travel.

- Uniform: An official FBLA blazer will be provided by the state organization, with an option to buy the blazer for $100 at the end of the term. Districts will pay $120 towards each officer's uniform. A polo shirt and alternative pants will also be provided to the officer. Name badges will be provided for officers.

- Hotels: For mandatory state officer meetings requiring an overnight stay, a hotel room will be provided. For meetings beginning before 9:00 am, hotel rooms will be provided for officers living more than three hours from the site of the meeting for the night before the meeting. Hotel rooms will be provided by Colorado FBLA at an approved hotel, preferably at the government rate. Hotel rooms must be requested no later than 2 weeks before the meeting date. Any other hotel reimbursements will need pre-approval, no later than 2 weeks before the date of travel.
- Supplies: Check with the Colorado FBLA State Adviser and State Officer Team Adviser on supplies reimbursement. Any supplies reimbursement must be pre-approved.

- Two hundred dollars ($200) may be paid to each state officer to offset part of their personal costs, dependent upon completion of assigned officer duties. The reimbursement form must be completed by the officer after State Leadership Conference and no later than May 31st after their officer term. The State Adviser and State Officer Team Adviser will determine the eligibility of the officer to receive the $200 (or a portion of it), based off officer performance throughout the year.
- Up to five hundred dollars ($500) may be paid to the National Officer Candidate to help defray campaign costs.

Expenses Covered by the Officer

- Expenses during the SLC at which the officer is elected
- Business cards, if desired
- Any additional pictures made for publicity purposes
- Expenses to the National Leadership Conference and National Fall Leadership Conference, which is optional but recommended
- RELIABLE internet access for iPad or other means to check e-mail and complete projects through Google
- Postage, if applicable
- Personal cell phone bills
- Uniform expenses, except the blazer, polo shirt, pants and dress shirt (beyond what is provided by their district)
- Replacement name badges, if needed
- Expenses for attending a local chapter meeting or conference outside your own district to which you are invited are to be paid by the chapter.
- No student shall be denied the right to serve as a state officer because of limited finances. It is the responsibility of the local adviser to notify the State Adviser and State Officer Team Adviser of a potential candidate in this situation.

Reimbursement Instructions

- Reimbursements will be made only if the officer or board member exemplifies good conduct and completes all assignments in a proper and prompt manner.
- Requests must be submitted within seven days of the date incurred or reimbursement may be denied or reduced.
- A completed W-9 must be on file for reimbursements to be processed.
- Dated receipts, if applicable, are to be submitted with the reimbursement form.

All situations cannot be covered by the rules. In some cases, a judgement may need to be made by the State Adviser and/or State Officer Team Adviser. Their decision is final. The decision will be made first in concern for the state organization's treasury, then with the consideration of the person involved. Thank you for your cooperation and understanding in stretching our funds.

Any donations or sponsorships that officers or board members secure to help defray expenses or the operation of the state would be beneficial and greatly appreciated!

Chapter 5: Public Relations & Networking

Public Relations are the constant process of building a positive image of FBLA. That image depends on your actions and efforts. The way you look and act, and the impression you make when meeting the public reflects not only upon you, but also upon your FBLA chapter, state, and national organization. Your actions should show others you are a proud and well-informed representative of the state organization. You also should reflect a clear understanding of the goals, projects, and ideals of FBLA and the ability to express them clearly and accurately in your own words. All correspondence that you send as a state officer should be approved by the State Officer Adviser before sending.

Public Relations Basics

Think of public relations as sophisticated "show and tell." It can be as simple as being excited about a project and transferring this to friends, making them excited, too. Or, it can be as complex as a television interview explaining the structure of our organization.

Whether simple or complex, in order to tell your story effectively, you must have a plan. Your basic plan needs to cover the following:

- Who: the audience
- What: the message
- When: the timing
- Where: the location
- Why: the purpose
- How: method or tools used

Telling the Story

Other public relations tools include interviews, telephone calls, letters, and speeches. Each method requires you to think on your feet and be prepared. You want to make a good impression, so make sure you know your facts.

Attending Meetings

Throughout the year, you will have many opportunities to spread the word about FBLA. Be prepared to make the most of each opportunity.

Before Attending a Meeting

- Become informed by carefully reviewing FBLA publications.
- Analyze the group and prepare presentations accordingly. If the group is not familiar with the organization, they may want to know about our mission, goals, programs, and how a chapter works.
- If you are asked to make a speech, make sure your facts are accurate. Review current information from the state organization. Ask your adviser and the State Officer Adviser to review your speech with you. Use varied techniques for involving the audience.
- Use visuals if they will help illustrate points you wish to make. To explain FBLA to some groups, it might be helpful to distribute program information sheets or other current publications listed in the publications catalog. You also may want to utilize the membership kit and membership video, or some of the resources located on the FBLA state website.

Networking

Networking is like public relations work within the organization. Throughout your year in office, you will have the opportunity to work with many different groups of people in order to carry out responsibilities and complete tasks. As a state officer, you are in a key position to keep FBLA's network alive. District and local officers and members look to you to keep them informed.

State Meetings of Other Organizations

FBLA frequently is invited to send representatives to participate in state and/or regional meetings of other state organizations and groups.

District and Chapter Meetings

In determining whether to accept any invitation, base your decision on:

- whether or not you can accept this responsibility in addition to your schoolwork;
- willingness of school administrators and teachers for you to miss school;
- the distance of the meeting from your home and the number of days involved to travel and attend the meeting;
- number of invitations you have received. (If invitations are numerous, you may want to decline some requests, especially for district or chapter meetings where distance is great. In declining an invitation, you might refer meeting organizers to your state adviser, who may be able to suggest a state officer nearby.)
- whether or not the amount of time and money spent is in proportion to your level of participation in the meeting;
- special interest.

Request for State Officer Form

When an adviser or any other person requests a State Officer to attend their meeting, the officer should provide the Request for State Officer Form.

Participation

To determine who participates in these meetings, state staff uses the following guidelines:

- Involvement of state officers in other activities
- Emphasis of the meeting and its relationship to officers' talents, responsibilities, and interests
- Location of the meeting
- State headquarters' budget
- Invitations to these meetings are issued through state staff. State officers will be notified far in advance to inform school administrators, ask permission, plan schedules, and make travel arrangements.

What to Tell Others

As you work with individuals and groups you need to help them see an overall picture of FBLA.

- Explain your activities as a state officer and activities of your chapter.
- Help others understand how chapters operate as an integral part of the Business Education program.
- Tell what belonging to the organization means to you.
- Emphasize the ways in which chapters provide opportunities for all members to participate at district, state and national levels.
- Illustrate ways in which participation in the state organization's programs contributes to members, their families, communities, and employment.
- Point out ways the state organization helps prepare members to fulfill their multiple roles as leaders in their families, careers, and communities.
- Explain the importance of paying membership dues that support project and program development.
- Explain the opportunities members have to develop leadership skills.

Chapter 6: State Officer Chapter Advisers

Before Running for Office...

You play a very important role in the state officer candidate's experience. It is important for you to be supportive and encouraging. This can be a stressful time for the candidates, so helping relieve the stress by listening, talking, and just being there is a great help.

Encourage your candidate to practice presentations with you and help prepare him or her for networking and question-and-answer sessions. This practice in "thinking on your feet" and expressing facts, thoughts, and ideas will be extremely beneficial and will help relax nerves when the real situation rolls around.

You will be informed of your state officer candidate's specific meeting times and locations at the State Leadership Conference.

Deciding to Run for a State Office

State Officer Candidates and their parents should be made aware of the extent of their responsibilities. It also is important that State Officer Candidates understand the responsibilities of serving as a state officer and are willing to make FBLA their top priority after health, family, and school during their term.

Expectations as a State Officer Chapter Adviser

Advisers of students elected to serve as state officers will be expected to attend the May State Officer Meeting. The primary objective of this meeting is to prepare for their roles in the coming year. Potential time commitments should be discussed with administrators before having a state officer candidate, especially with more schools limiting teacher's time away from school. There will be three other meetings that chapter advisers will also need to attend: September, December, and March.

After a Candidate's Application is Submitted

Information on the selection process can be found in the first chapter of this handbook. State Officer Candidates and State Officer Candidate Chapter Advisers will receive additional information regarding state officer candidate responsibilities following the application deadline. This information will include a schedule for state officer candidates, a letter detailing responsibilities, and additional details.

Communication between Colorado FBLA and officers and advisers is done primarily by email.

If Your Officer is Selected

Congratulations! It is a tribute to you that your chapter member has been elected to be a state officer. You play a very important role in the officer's experience. Your key roles of listening, supporting, encouraging, and guiding will allow your officer to grow as a distinguished leader and young adult.

State Officer Chapter Advisers have many roles and responsibilities. You will serve as a consultant to help officers prepare for their specific responsibilities throughout the year. Please familiarize yourself with the State Officer Code of Conduct, Code of Ethics, and your state officer's specific duties.

It's hard to estimate how much time will be required of you as a State Officer Chapter Adviser. That will depend in part on the officer's specific responsibilities, the amount of help the officer needs, and the requests the officer gets to attend chapter, district, and state meetings. There will also be various conference duties for the State Officer Chapter Advisers. However, in the end, the time required of a State Officer Chapter Adviser is a great responsibility that affects most areas of your life. It's important to develop a clear understanding, so you can fulfill your obligations to the fullest.

The state staff also assumes a great deal of responsibility for training officers, planning with them and coordinating their work — much more responsibility than is typically assumed at the state level. The State Officer Chapter Adviser has primary responsibility for the state officer team.

Roles & Responsibilities

In addition to the responsibilities you and your officer have, you represent the image and voice of the state organization. That image depends on your actions and efforts. The way you look and act, and the impression you make when meeting the public reflects not only upon you, but also upon your FBLA chapter, district, and state organization.

Meetings

Required dates:

- May: State Officer Meeting
- September: State Officer Meeting
- December: State Officer Meeting
- January: District Skill Grading
- February: District Leadership Conference
- March: State Officer Meeting
- March: State Skill Grading (strongly recommended)
- April: State Leadership Conference

Travel Reimbursement Policies

- The adviser AND officer must present a positive image of FBLA and its programs. The adviser must take an active part in helping the officer reach his/her personal and organizational goals.
- The responsibilities and duties outlined below have been prepared to assist local advisers in helping their state officer during the year.
- Local advisers should attend the State Officer Team meetings when requested with their officer. These meetings are used to formulate the officer's responsibilities and program of work for the year and give the advisers insight into their support role.

Colorado FBLA Code of Conduct

The purpose of the Code of Conduct is to ensure that FBLA members who attend a conference are aware of expected behavior. It is the adviser's responsibility to discuss the form with the members and stress the importance of abiding by the rules. Colorado FBLA is proud of its reputation and encourages advisers to closely monitor students at all conferences. Advisers must have a signed Multiple Release Form in their possession at all FBLA activities and must submit a Certification Form certifying that all members have read and signed the form, which includes acknowledgement of this Code of Conduct.

Sanctions

Anyone may make a bad decision here or there. Colorado FBLA wants students to learn from any poor choices. Therefore, sanctions assigned to a FBLA State Officer are educational in nature. Our goal is for each student to learn from a bad decision and equip themselves with the skills to make better decisions in the future.

While some sanctions may be perceived as punitive, the student conduct process seeks to assign sanctions with educational purpose, and sanctions are intended to balance the needs of the individual with the needs of the organization. Sanctions may range from a warning, to officer improvement plan or dismissal. There are a variety of sanctions outlined. Any notices will be copied to the Local Chapter Adviser.

1. Warning. A notice will be given to the FBLA State Officer and Local Adviser that her/his actions are inappropriate, and that the individual must act more responsibly in the future. A reprimand also indicates that should the individual again be referred for disciplinary action, their prior disciplinary history will help determine any future sanctions.
2. Officer Improvement Plan. A notice will be given to the FBLA State Officer that her/his actions are of a serious Colorado FBLA State Officer Code of Conduct policy violation. Probation shall be for a designated period of time and includes the probability of more severe disciplinary sanctions if the student is found to be violating any Code of Conduct policies during the probationary period. Any violation committed during the probationary period will result in a review of the student's status as a FBLA State Officer.
3. Disciplinary Dismissal. State Officer Social Media Agreement

Social media can be a useful tool to communicate with peers, members, friends, advisers and more. Social media can also be dangerous if you are not careful. Every picture, link, quote, tweet, status, or post that you or your friends put online is forever part of your digital footprint. You never know when that will come back to hurt or help your reputation during your time in office, applying for a scholarship or new job, or other important areas of your life.

Recognizing the above:

_____ I take responsibility for my online profile, including my posts and any photos, videos or other recordings posted by others in which I appear.

_____ I will not degrade others before, during, or after conferences or competitions.

_____ I will post only positive things about my peers, advisers, other members and judges.

_____ I will use social media to purposefully promote abilities, organization, community, and social values.

_____ I will consider "Is this the me I want you to see?" before I post anything online.

_____ I will ignore any negative comments about me and will not retaliate.

_____ If I see another officer post something potentially negative online, I will have a conversation with that person. If I do not feel comfortable doing so, I will talk to the president, or an adviser.

_____ I am aware that I represent Colorado FBLA, my school, my family, and my community at all times, and will do so in a positive manner.

iPad Use Contract

Equipment

Colorado FBLA retains sole right of possession of the iPad and related equipment. The iPad will be issued to students according to the guidelines set forth in this document. The FBLA State Adviser, Business and Marketing Program Director, State Officer Team Adviser, or chapter adviser retains the right to collect and/or inspect the iPad at any time and to alter, add or delete installed software or hardware. Usage is a privilege and not a right.

Customization of Equipment

The FBLA State Officer is permitted to alter or add files to customize the assigned iPad to their own working styles (i.e. System Preferences). The FBLA State Officer is not permitted to install software on the assigned iPad without written approval. The FBLA State Officer may also customize their case for their iPad as long as it adheres to school and district policy.

Damage or Loss of Equipment

Report any damage or loss to the FBLA State Adviser, who will determine necessary action. All iPads are covered by a manufacturer's extended warranty as well as an additional insurance policy. The warranty covers manufacturer's defects. The insurance policy is a fee of $50 per device for family and carries an additional $100 deductible for each claim. The $100 deductible is also the financial responsibility of the student's family. The insurance covers accidental damage from liquid spills, power surges, drops, falls, collisions, theft (police report required), vandalism, flood, fire, smoke, wind, and earthquake, as well as damage to batteries and ac adapters. Insurance does not cover loss, negligence and abuse. For example, throwing the iPad or using the iPad as an umbrella would be considered examples of neglect and abuse. If an iPad is lost or damaged by neglect or abuse, it is the family's financial responsibility to replace the iPad at a price of approximately $500. If an iPad is damaged, FBLA will work with the student, Apple, and the insurance company to determine if it is a warranty or insurance claim incident.

Standards for Personal iPad Care

FBLA State Officer Responsibilities:

- Keep the iPad with you or within your sight at all times.
- Do not let anyone use the iPad other than your parents or guardians.
- Adhere to FBLA State Officer Code of Conduct at all times.
Report any problems, damage or theft immediately to your teacher.
- Arrive to meetings with a fully charged battery.

General Care:

- Do not do anything to the iPad that will permanently alter it in any way.
- Do not remove any serial numbers or identification placed on the iPad.
- Keep the equipment clean. For example, do not eat or drink while using the iPad.

Screen Care

- Clean the screen with a soft, dry anti-static cloth or with a screen cleaner designed specifically for LCD type screens only.

Personal Health & Safety

- Avoid extended use of the iPad while resting directly on your lap. The bottom of the iPad can generate significant heat.
- Take frequent breaks when using the iPad for long periods of time. Look away from the iPad approximately every fifteen minutes.
- Do not provide your personal information to anyone over the Internet.
- Do not share your passwords with anyone.
- Keep the iPad in a secure location when it is not at school.

Removal of iPad Use

Reasons for placing a FBLA State Officer to have their iPad removed include the following:

- Excessive damage
- Excessive loss
- Non-acceptance of user agreements
- Excessive interruptions in service due to repair of local modifications
- Violation of the FBLA State Officer Code of Conduct
- Violation of FBLA Responsible Use Agreement
- Inappropriate, defamatory, inaccurate, abusive, obscene, profane, or illegal material found on iPad
- Violating Standards for Personal iPad Care

I understand the Colorado FBLA iPad use terms laid out above.
